Minister's Letter

The Lent services at Fulneck this year were on the theme of Christian faith in encounter with other faiths. We considered what we can learn from the beliefs and practices of Jews, Sikhs, Muslims, Hindus and Buddhists. The material had been prepared by Churches Together in Britain and Ireland last year, recognising that we live in a multi-religious world.

Another ecumenical document that has been produced fairly recently (2011) is called 'Christian Witness in a Multi-Religious World: Recommendations for Conduct'. It is the product of three worldwide bodies working together over five years: the Pontifical Council for Interreligious Dialogue, the World Council of Churches (of which the Moravian Church is a member), and the World Evangelical Alliance. At the Moravian Unity Mission Conference back in November, this document was endorsed, and it has some useful principles which can be applied at all levels, including in our own relationships and encounters with people of other faiths and no faith.

The document says that all Christians should adhere to the following principles:

- Acting in God's love - loving our neighbour as ourselves;
- Imitating Jesus Christ - sharing his love, giving glory and honour to the Father in the power of the Spirit;
- Christian virtues - conducting ourselves with integrity, charity, compassion and humility;
- Acts of service and justice - serving others and recognising Christ in the least of our sisters and brothers;
- Discernment in ministries of healing - respecting human dignity and not exploiting the vulnerable;
- Rejection of violence - rejecting all forms of violence, including by any religious or secular authority;

- Freedom of religion and belief - allowing all people to profess, practice, propagate and change their religion;
- Mutual respect and solidarity - working with all people to promote justice, peace and the common good;
- Respect for all people - respecting all people even when the gospel challenges aspects of their culture;
- Renouncing false witness - speaking sincerely and listening in order to understand the beliefs and practices of others;
- Ensuring personal discernment - acknowledging that changing religion requires adequate reflection and must be done freely;
- Building interreligious relationships - developing deeper mutual understanding, reconciliation and cooperation.

I am reminded of what Jesus said when asked about the greatest commandment. You will probably know that he replied, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind" and "You shall love your neighbour as yourself" (Matthew 22: 37-38). The first two of the above principles seem to sum up these two commandments, and the rest flow from them, filling in the details of what it means to love our neighbour when they are of another faith.

I'm not sure who first said it, but it is often true that "we fear what we don't understand". As the material used in the Lent services showed, when we positively engage with people of other faiths we come to a better understanding of those faiths and those people, helping to reduce tensions and break down barriers. Not only that, but we also come to a better understanding of our own faith, and that is always a good thing.

Lent Lunches

A huge thank you to everyone who has been involved in helping with Lent Lunches, especially those who have done the cooking, and those who have done the eating and donating! Thank you also to those who have not been able to attend for various reasons but have still made generous donations! We have suffered a bit from the terrible weather we experienced in March, having to cancel one Friday lunch, but we have managed to raise £667.45.

Sr Myra Dickinson

Wednesday 25th April, 7.00pm at the home of Sr Hilary Smith

We are beginning a new course called "The Psalms: Prayers for Today's Church".

All are welcome to join the group.

The ancient poems we call Psalms are over 2000 years old, but these songs have stood the test of time for they address many of the problems we still face: violence, injustice, anger – and bewilderment. Why do the wicked prosper? Where is God when we suffer?

In five sessions, Bishop Stephen Cottrell reflects on the psalms, with contributions from Dominican Friar Fr Timothy Radcliffe, Revd John Bell of the Iona Community, the Chaplain to the Speaker of the House of Commons Revd Prebendary Rose-Hudson Wilkin, and the Principal of Wesley House Cambridge Revd Dr Jane Leach.

Property Steward

Br John Addison has been our property steward for many years, but now wishes to stand down from this role.

The main task of the property steward is to complete annual property reports every September; and if any work is needed they organise someone to do it.

If you think that you would be interested in taking on this important role, please speak to a member of the Church Committee. Thank you..

Birthday Calendars - SALE

St Mary's have produced some birthday calendars with pictures of the churches and pubs of Gomersal, including Gomersal Moravian Church, to help raise funds for their tower appeal.

Each month has its own page with a list of dates for you to put down people's birthdays.

Because the days of the week are not on the calendar it can be used year after year and will not be out of date.

These calendars, which are available at the back of church, have now been reduced from £9.50 to £8 – a bargain!

Please give your payment to Br Les Machell.

Summer Camp 4th to 11th August at Dovedale House

Moravian Summer Camp is a residential holiday for young people aged 10-17 who have contact with the Moravian Church. It is overseen by Joy Raynor, the paid youth and children's worker, but the hard work is done by volunteers who are members of the Moravian Church across England and Northern Ireland.

Camp is divided into two groups by age – Juniors and Seniors – each with age appropriate activities. However, the camp is together for many activities and the leadership team try to ensure that the different age groups spend time together as well as apart. Worship and meals are always spent together and there will be games sessions and activities done together too.

2018 Summer Camp is returning to the Peak District. Dovedale House is set in the beauty of the Derbyshire peaks, surrounded by countryside. The accommodation is in dormitories equipped with bunk beds and plenty of storage space. The bedrooms are on two floors, so boys and girls will be on different floors. The young people can choose who they share a room with although we do try to keep Juniors and Seniors in separate rooms. The showers and toilets are in blocks on each floor. Bedding is supplied. More information and pictures of the house can be seen on <http://www.dovedalehouse.org/>.

Forms are available from Br Newman.

Human Sexuality

The sixth paper, looking at the situation in the wider Moravian Unity, has been available for a few weeks. There will be a chance to discuss this last paper following the services at Fulneck on 15th April and at Gomersal on 22nd April. The District Youth Group will be discussing the papers when they next meet on Sunday 22nd April.

The Women's World Day of Prayer

Please note

The service that was snowed off in March has been rearranged for Wednesday 18th April, 2pm at St Andrew's Methodist Church.
